

WILSON TO PRESS MANDATE ACTION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, May 26.—President Wilson's request for authority to accept a mandate for Armenia is not likely to get congressional action until after the national conventions, although it will be considered by house and senate foreign relations committees tomorrow.

The house committee contemplated calling Secretary of State Clegg as a witness to testify concerning the duties that would fall upon the nation if it accepted a mandate over Armenia. General Harbord who made an investigation and rendered a report on the obligations of such a mandate will also be called to testify.

There is every indication now that the Armenian mandate is going to be another political issue in the coming campaign and Republicans profess to accept it gladly. They point out that the acceptance of such a mandate would mean the levying of additional taxes and declare that there is no sympathy in this country now for any action which means additional taxes.

President Wilson is determined for action on the question of the mandate. It was learned today, and he will insist that the matter be taken up in earnest by congress at the earliest possible moment.

BERGDOLL REWARD IS INCREASED

His Counsel Add $1,000 to $2,500
Already Offered—Criticize Palmer for Not Telling of Information of Plot for Draft Dodger's Escape.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, May 26.—Additional reward of $1,000 for information resulting in the capture of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy draft dodger, who recently escaped from his guards at Philadelphia, was offered today by his Washington counsel, Samuel T. Ansell, former judge advocate general, and Edward S. Bailey. This was in addition to the rewards totaling $2,500 previously offered.

Attorneys Ansell and Bailey sharply criticized the department of justice today in reply to an announcement from Attorney General Palmer's office that the latter had information as early as April 30 of a plot for Bergdoll to get bail and then jump it. Bergdoll's lawyers expressed surprise that Palmer's office did not communicate this information as to Bergdoll's plot to the proper authorities at the war department.

"It is very remarkable that the information seems not to have been furnished to the adjutant general of the army nor to the chief of staff, nor to the secretary of war," said Judge Ansell.

"With information worthy of the same in its possession the war department doubtless would never have granted the permission, and with such information we certainly would not have asked permission."

Bergdoll's story of "hidden money" to search for which he was permitted to go to Philadelphia was implicitly believed by counsel for Bergdoll, both in Philadelphia and in Washington, and by highest officials of the war department, Judge Ansell asserted.

Judge Ansell further declared that the war department had ample precedent for granting Bergdoll permission, and that its course in the case was fully justified under the circumstances.

Judge Ansell said further: "So far as our connection with the Bergdoll case is concerned, we stand in the open. We shall conceal nothing. We shall evade nothing; we shall not attempt to shift the responsibility from ourselves to others."

CARRANZA DID NOT KILL SELF

Reports Obregon's Commission and Recommends Trials for His Companions—Punishment for Guilty Hare, Says Obregon.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Mexico City, May 26.—The commission appointed by General Obregon to investigate the death of Venustiano Carranza, reported today that the former president had been assassinated and that the declaration of Rodolfo Herrera that Carranza had committed suicide should be disregarded.

The commission recommended that all persons accompanying Carranza, when he was shot to death last Thursday, especially the followers of the rebel leader Herrera, should be prosecuted and the personal responsibility of each one definitely fixed.

The members of the commission are General Zuazo, Rogier Malpica, Aquiles Elorduy and Roque Estrada.

Luis Cabrera, former secretary of the treasury, who was in the Carranza party, was arrested and is now in the penitentiary along with a dozen other prisoners who accompanied the late president on his flight.

"A most rigorous investigation is being made and the world may rest assured that those found guilty of this crime will be sternly dealt with," said General Obregon. "So far no satisfactory explanation has been made by the men who abandoned the ex-president to his fate when the attack was made by Herrera's followers. According to information which has been received at my headquarters there were about 25 men in the attacking party, while the friends of Carranza, who were supposed to be guarding him, numbered about 150. This group included a number of army officers."

Committees of both houses of congress left for Manizillo on a special train to welcome Adolfo de la Huerta, the newly elected provisional president, who is en route for this city.

WORTH MILLIONS ADJUDGED INSANE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, May 25.—Despite the fact that the estate of John William O'Bannen has increased in value about $2,000,000 during the past fifty-five days and that it is estimated at more than $15,000,000, he is compelled to remain an inmate of the Riverdale Sanitarium, having been adjudged mentally incompetent by a sheriff's jury.

The physicians who pronounced O'Bannen incurably insane in their testimony, agreed however that he is a remarkably keen business man and is possessed of unusual memory.

O'Bannen admitted on the witness stand he began his life on a "chance string." He is president of the Maxim Munitions Corporation and well known as an inventor and promoter.

The petition in lunacy and for the appointment of a committee was signed by Mrs. Ellen Rinke, of St. Louis, O'Bannen's mother. O'Bannen testified that he began to take care of himself when he was away from his home because he could not get along with his stepfather, who is a practicing homeopathic physician. O'Bannen is now 50 years old.

BARS GOLDENKOFF FROM LAW SCHOOL

Justice Hasbrouck Upholds Albany Institution In Expelling Him For Disloyal Utterances—Vacates Injunction Secured By Outcast Student And Denies Motion For Preliminary Injunction.

Jacob M. Goldenkoff, student at the Albany Law School who was expelled by the school authorities for alleged Socialistic tendencies, under the decision handed down by Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck is barred from attending the school and completing his course. Goldenkoff was a senior at the school and according to affidavits of Greenburg and Galup, two students at the Albany Law School, made statements against the government of the United States and said: "To hell with the American Government, we need a change of government and Socialism and sovietism will accomplish it," and made other statements against the government.

The motion for a preliminary injunction is denied and the existing injunction vacated.

The decision handed down by Justice Hasbrouck is as follows: "The action is brought to restrain the Albany Law School from interfering with the plaintiff's attendance at the school and participation in the examinations thereof. The complaint alleges that the plaintiff has been wrongfully expelled therefrom. The application is for an injunction pendente lite. The defence of the law school is that the plaintiff has expressed views with reference to government and law contrary to sound morals. The answer does not technically make the defense which the affidavits in support of the answer show exists. The conclusion cannot be evaded by the court that the case of disloyalty as a reason for plaintiff's expulsion from the law school is not 'trumped up.' The affidavits of Greenburg and Galup declare that plaintiff said, 'To hell with the American government, we need a change of government and Socialism and sovietism will accomplish it.'"

"American people have a government worse than autocratic Russia ever had and there should be a revolution."

The proof by affidavit preponderates in favor of the law school upon the issue involved in the motion to the extent that the court feels obliged to accept its contention.

If the words were used then the utterances quoted bring the plaintiff within the provisions of Section 9,727 of Barnes Federal Code:

"Whoever when the United States is at war shall willfully utter . . . any disloyal, profane, scurrilous or abusive language about the form of the government of the United States or the constitution of the United States . . . or any language intended to bring the form of government of the United States or the constitution of the United States into contempt . . . shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.00 or imprisonment for more than twenty years or both."

The war between the United States and Germany still continues. Peace has not been declared. The above statute is still operative. Hannah & Hogg vs. Clynne, 263 Fed. Rep. 539.

The use of such language being criminal it became no longer the duty of the law school to suffer the plaintiff to associate with its students or its faculty to continue to instruct him.

The motion for a preliminary injunction is denied and the existing injunction vacated.

Dated May 25, 1920.

THREE ESCAPE BOSTON PRISON

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, May 26.—A country wide police dragnet was thrown out today in an effort to capture a trio of notorious convicts who escaped in a sensational manner from state's prison early today. The men are Herman L. Barney, 24, automobile bandit, who killed Patrolman Charles E. Deinger in a gun battle on February 13, in a Chelsea garage; Harry A. Manster, 30, apartment house robber who killed Mounted Policeman Joseph Reiser, in Boston, in January, 1918, and Charles Woods, 30, a mulatto convicted of attacking ten women in Boston.

Another convict, Joseph Deintsner, 34, of Westfield, convicted of lunch room robberies, was found stuck in a ventilator through which his fellow prisoners gained their liberty.

Police were working on the theory that the men had outside aid and are tracing a big automobile seen outside the prison shortly before the "break."

THE SCULPTOR OF AMERICAN HISTORY

J. E. Kelly, Who Produced Memorial For Kingston Heroes, Has Long and Distinguished Record in That Field.

J. E. Kelly, whom the Encyclopedia Americana says "has successfully devoted himself to sculpture and chosen subjects from American history for treatment by his patriotic chisel; so great has been his success that he has won the title of 'Sculptor of American History' has just completed a bronze memorial to the soldiers and sailors of Ulster county, which is to be unveiled in Kingston May 30.

Kelly's first work in sculpture was Sheridan's Ride, for which the general posed and gave sittings in 1878. The general, being so pleased with the result, sent Kelly the following letter:

"February 27, 1881.

"My Dear Mr. Kelly: A short time ago, just before I started for New Mexico, I received your letter notifying me of the completion of the statuette, and that you would send me a copy.

"Yesterday it was sent home and myself and friends had an opportunity of seeing it, and one and all expressed their admiration of your spirited work.

"The action is marvellously good, the accuracy of detail and the likeness of myself is wonderful in so small a work. In addition to all this, there is a spirit in the entire work of both horse and man which cannot well be equalled.

"I am greatly pleased at your success, and will tomorrow place the statuette where it can be seen by the public.

"I shall want one in bronze 'soon as you can put it in metal. Good! I understand was your intention.

"With kind regards, I am, Very truly yours,

"P. H. SHERIDAN."

Among the details furnished by the general was his sabre, Kelly having made a drawing of it, asked the general to endorse it as some man who knew things would come along some day and say the costume and equipment were incorrect. So General Sheridan wrote beneath the study, "This is an accurate drawing of the sabre worn by men at the Battle of Cedar Creek."

Shortly after the statue was on exhibition a letter appeared in a paper by a man who said, "The statuette representing General Sheridan was incorrect, as a general always wore a sword."

The first copy of this bronze exhibited by Tiffany struck the attention of Theodore Roosevelt, then a student at Harvard. Going in and asking the price he paid it, $250, saying he bought it for his Americanism. Later after the Spanish war, Roosevelt called on Kelly and posed for a companion statuette representing his "famous deed" at San Juan, which being incomplete at the time of President McKinley's death, President Roosevelt invited Kelly down to the White House, where he gave the final pose and then signed his name on the base of the model which is reproduced in the bronze later shown at the Roosevelt memorial exhibition at Columbia College.

The Sheridan statue was the first of a series of patriotic sculptures by Kelly which include studies from life of General Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Wilson, Howard and others. His latest is the Memorial Bronze to the militiamen of Ulster county, New York. The same date in which Kelly devoted to the historic biography of Sheridan's Ride, his first bronze, he shows in his latest. The soldier and sailor were modeled from men in uniform at the time. The equipments were loaned to Kelly to be used for the monument by special permission of the commandant of New York. The eagle, bearing the flag to France, over its unusual accuracy of detail to the suggestions and supervision of the curator of the Museum of Natural History, New York. The sword borne by the eagle was copied from the sword worn by General James H. Wilson in the campaign in which he captured Jefferson Davis and fought the last battle of the war for the union.

TROLLEY CASE UP TO COMMISSION

Commissioner Hill at Company's Request, Will Submit Kingston Situation to Full Body—Docker to Recommend Putting City Line Cars on Washington Avenue Instead of Colonial Cars.

The adjourned hearing before Commissioner Hill of the public service commission in the matter of the elimination of the Washington avenue branch of a trolley line, was held this morning at the court house. Howard Chipp, attorney for the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company, made formal application for the dismissal of the proceedings, as it was announced some time ago the company would do. Since the last meeting had been adjourned and after due consideration Mr. Chipp said the railroad company had decided to withdraw its application in the proceedings. The elimination of the Washington avenue branch Mr. Chipp said would, had it been granted, been only a temporary relief. The company appreciated the suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce for a complete survey of the road system and realized that this method would better serve the traveling public as well as being for the interest of the company. He asked that the commission make a survey of the road and recommend a cause of action which would serve the interest of the company and the public as well.

Martin S. Decker who had been retained by the citizens of the 11th and 12th wards to oppose the removal of the tracks, did not oppose the withdrawal of the application on the part of the trolley company.

Mayor Canfield, who appeared for the city, stated that he did not oppose the withdrawal from the present proceedings but was not in a position to state what would be done at a later date should other recommendations be made.

Commissioner Hill stated that he would make an examination and report to the commission. He would bring it to the attention of the commission. What action the commission will take he could not say.

It is understood that Mr. Decker will submit the recommendation to the commission that the Colonial division cars stop at the head of Wall street and the Kingston City division cars run through North Front street and Washington avenue. This would give the people of Washington avenue a ten minute schedule at all times and as the majority of passengers go to points on the Kingston City, or Broadway, division it would give them a better service. Many people who live on Washington avenue or in the vicinity, and who wish to reach a point along Broadway now walk over to the Kingston City line on Fair street, as this line takes them past their destination. If the Kingston City division were run through to Marius street they would board the cars near their homes and receive a better service.

FEW NEW ROADS BETTER OLD ONES

Abandonment of the program for the construction of new highways in New York, while it means the halting up of many projects of the utmost importance in various sections of the state, still will be productive of good, in that it will enable highway engineers and contractors to devote themselves to the repair of existing highways.

This is the consensus of opinion among many of the state's leading road builders and officials. With labor scarce and high priced, the letting of contracts for new improvements would bid one against the other for men as well as for materials, and the projects already under way in various sections would have suffered.

The improvement of existing highways is essential. In almost every section there are roads in terrible shape, some of them almost impassable for automobiles and out of the question for heavy trucks.

Truck traffic now is being considered as it never has been before, leading transportation managers and highway officials declare. The leading part taken by the automobile freight carrier during the war period and since then, and particularly the manner in which trucks came to the fore during the outflow of traffic from the strike has assured their place in modern transportation.

Before the motor truck can come into its own, however, roads adequate to carry tremendous burdens of the future must be constructed, leading into every corner and county of the state. A start in this direction already has been made, and the 1920 program provided for an extension of these modern traffic arteries.

Thus it is that in the highway work that will be prosecuted during the present season, according to experts, new attention will be given to the problem of putting roads that have failed in the past into shape to last in the future.

Many miles of macadam roads in New York state can be converted into heavy traffic highways with a reasonable expenditure. Old brick, concrete and Belgian block pavements in scores of cities, now in bad state of repair, also can be resurfaced to withstand the pounding of heavy traffic.

Preparations already have been made in many places to take up this necessary work. Completed, it will leave clear the way to the letting of contracts for new, heavy traffic roads, as soon as the prices return to a level deemed reasonable by Highway Commissioner Greene.

In New York, as elsewhere, the practice of converting old macadam roads into modern highways for motor traffic by the addition of an asphalt concrete or sheet asphalt wearing surface has proved economical and practical.

The same wearing surface, laid on the expensive but inadequate brick, concrete or block pavements of towns and cities, has given to many localities the most modern type of highway at the expense alone of the asphalt top.

Hundreds of miles of country roads resurfaced with native lake asphalt, today are standing up under the most severe demands of traffic. The asphalt grips the stone or sand tenaciously, holding it intact despite the passage of five or ten ton trucks. The new surface protects the foundations from the destructive pounding of motors, and from the weather.

While new projects are delayed, perhaps for several months, the carrying out of repair work will aid New York materially to retain its place in the front rank of good road states. Putting their hands to the wheel and repairing the roads they already possess also will place many towns in position to join in the greater improvements of the future.

Simply a Matter of the Maker's Policies

This you will realize—once you try a Brunswick—that a super-tire is possible only when the name certifies that the maker is following the highest standards.

For tire making is chiefly a matter of standards and policies—cost plus care. Any maker can build a good tire if he cares to pay perfection's price.

All men know Brunswick standards, for Brunswick products have been famous for 74 years.

Formulas, fabrics and standards vary vastly in cost. Reinforcements, plies and thickness are a matter of expense. And these variations affect endurance. It rests with the maker how far he wishes to go—how much he can afford to give.

For there are no secrets not patents to hold one back.

To ascertain what each maker offers one must analyze and test some 200 tires—as our laboratories have done.

Then it is a matter of combining the best features and building according to the highest standards.

Once you try a Brunswick you will understand how we have built model tires, regardless of factory expense.

Yet Brunswick Tires cost you the same as other like-type tires. Our saving is on selling cost, through our nation-wide organization.

We realize that you expect more from Brunswicks, and we assure you that you get it. ONE Brunswick will tell you the story.

And then you'll want ALL Brunswicks. No other tire, you'll agree, gives so much for your money.

Most family libraries are indebted to one or two carefully chosen in expensively bound volumes of plain or where leather dressed by graces. Art form or a sort of bordered frame may show them. If not, try the powdered glasses, rightly applied with a clean brush. This is what picture dealers use to clean the margin of old prints. It roughens the surface less than rubber.

R. R. STRIKE AND FACTORY WAGES

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Albany, May 26.—Factory workers' earnings were not affected by the strike of railroad workers to as great an extent as might have been expected. Part time was reported by some firms as the result of the lack of raw materials or the inability to make shipments but the chief effect on New York state manufacturing as a whole was the 2 per cent reduction in employment previously reported.

The average weekly earnings in April for the 620,000 employees of the 1,648 manufacturers, who report each month to the bureau of statistics of the state industrial commission, was $27.80. This decrease of only 7 cents from the March average is not probably the full measure of the effect of transportation troubles on the average earnings of all factory workers, as many increases in earnings reported in industries not affected tended to raise the average. Seasonal movements resulted in marked increases in a few industries and decreases in others.

The chief decreases in earnings that may be attributed to the interference with freight movements, occurred in some divisions of the metal products industries, in the paper goods and printing industries, and in some of the food products industries. A lay-off of a considerable number of men in the larger steel plants was the chief result in that industry, but the earnings of the workers employed averaged lower than in March. Considerable decreases in average earnings also appear in the automobile and shipbuilding industries, as the result of the inability to get shipments of materials. The paper shortage, which was made more acute by transportation difficulties, accounts for the decrease in earnings in the manufacture of paper goods and in printing. Failure of shipments to arrive at various plants is given as the cause of part time work and consequent reductions in earnings in the cereal and meat products industries. Reduced working time and lower earnings in plants making crackers, macaroni and similar bakery products also occurred as the result of shipping difficulties. Individual firms in a variety of other industries showed payroll reductions due to the effects of the railroad strike.

Aside from the influence of the railroad strike, the chief decreases in workers' earnings in April were in the clothing industries, and the chief increases were in the manufacture of building materials.

The shoe manufacturing and clothing industries show decreases of varying amounts in the average weekly earnings of workers, as the result of decreased demand. The slack season in women's clothing appeared rather earlier than usual this year, and the industry shows the steepest drop in workers' earnings reported in April in any industry. Slight decreases were also reported in the men's clothing, women's furnishings and millinery industries.

The largest increase of the month was $5.45 in the average weekly earnings for the cement and lime industry. It is due to full time work in plants which were operated only part time in March, and to a general increase in activity in the industry. Substantial gains also appear in the lumber, brick, structural iron and steel, and millwork industries. Lumber work was opening up in these regions at the time of April reports, and further increases will probably appear in May.

Other marked increases in earnings appear in the manufacture of silverware, cutlery, heating apparatus, instruments, pianos, furniture, and so on. Wage rate increases were shown in numerous industries in April.

PEARL B. ODELL GOES ON TRIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Rochester, N. Y., May 26.—The trial of Pearl Beaver Odell for the murder of Edward J. Knep, who was slain on the Mosquito Point road in Chili in February, was begun before Supreme Court Judge Robert F. Thompson this morning. Owing to the delicate condition of the defendant, whose husband is already in the death house in Sing Sing prison awaiting execution for the same crime, confident predictions were made by persons aligned with the defense that it would be difficult to find a jury that would convict the young woman of first degree murder.

Interest in the case had not abated when court opened this morning, but those who came with the expectation of watching the examination of talesmen were disappointed, for the court ordered the attendants to keep all spectators out of the room while prospective jurors were being examined.

Justice Thompson also directed the attendants to see that there was no crowding in the court room when the trial gets under way, as was the case during the trial of James Odell, the young woman's husband.

Attorney Louis E. Fuller, counsel for the defense, was determined to put up the hardest fight of his career to save the young woman from the chair. While public opinion already has convicted the girl, the general belief being that she was the principal actor in the killing of Knep, it is evident that the defense will endeavor to play upon the sympathy of each of the twelve men selected to try the defendant, owing to her approaching motherhood. Attorney Fuller has in his career defended nine persons accused of first degree murder, not one of whom has gone to the electric chair, and he has strong hopes of saving Mrs. Odell from the fate her husband faces. The latter, when he took the stand in his own defense, threw the entire blame for the killing of Knep on to the shoulders of his wife and it was stated this morning by District Attorney Love that it was not likely that Odell would be brought here to testify in the present time.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, May 26.—Prof. R. E. Kaufman, of Dayton, O., is visiting friends in Port Ewen.

Esopus Council, No. 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, will meet this evening in its rooms in Spinnecorner's Hall.

Mrs. Henry Downs of Kingston spent Tuesday with Mrs. Kate Rikely on Bayard street.

There was a large attendance at the illustrated address given by Prof. Burton L. Rockwood in the Methodist Church Tuesday evening. Prof. Rockwood is rightly named the silver-tongued orator, as he brought to his hearers a most wonderful and inspiring message, the subject of which was "Go Thou and Do Likewise," following one of the most beautiful Bible motion pictures, "The Good Samaritan," impressing vividly on the minds of Bible readers a lesson never to be forgotten, and showing clearly our attitude one to another. After the picture was shown a silver offering was taken to help defray the price of the film. Prof. Burton then gave a short address on "How to Win My Pal," following closely the example of the Good Samaritan. The entire evening was spent in a very profitable manner and those who did not attend the service missed something worth while.

The regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Thursday afternoon at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. Edward H. Bishop. All members are requested to be present.

Made Yach Precocious.

A tourist traveling in India wrote home that he was astonished by the precocity of the Hindu children, says the Home Journal. Many of them are skilled workmen at an age when other children are learning the alphabet. One of the most expert carvers he used to see was a boy of seven, and many of the handmen and workmen used in the temples and palaces were children not yet in their teens.

MAYORS TO MEET IN JAMESTOWN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Jamestown, May 26.—This city will be the mecca for city officials of New York State during the first week in July. For three days the New York State Conference of Mayors and Other City Officials will hold its eleventh annual meeting and at the same time the City Clerks' Association will have its thirteenth annual convention. On the opening day of these conventions there will be a special conference of the city engineers of the state and on the second day the health officers of the cities of the state will have a meeting. Plans are being made to entertain four hundred city officials during the three days.

Plans for the annual meeting of the Mayors' Conference have been announced by President Walter R.
Stone, of Syracuse. The Advisory Committee has decided to devote the entire eight sessions to a discussion of the report and recommendations of the Special Joint Committee of the Legislature on Taxation and Retrenchment, which under the chairmanship of Senator Frederick M. Davenport, made an investigation of the affairs of New York State cities during the winter. Among the special subjects to be discussed will be governmental organization, central purchasing by municipalities, municipal bonding, municipal pensions, municipal interest payments and receipts, municipal budget systems, tax limitations, assessments and equalization, the education problem in cities, city zoning and reducing of juvenile delinquency. The city engineers will discuss paving construction and cost and sewerage and sewage disposal problems. The health officers will consider health center legislation, health blank systems, progress and efficiency in public health and health administration in the larger and smaller cities in the state.

The city health officers' conference will be under the joint auspices of the State Department of Health and the Conference.

On the last day all of the city officials will be the guests of the Chautauque Assembly. Two big meetings will be held, one under the auspices of the Conference and the other under the direction of the Assembly. Speakers of national reputation are being sought to discuss municipal problems.

Olive Thomas At Keene's—Charles
Ray At Opera House.

In her newest picture "Footlights and Shadows" at Keene's again tonight, Olive Thomas, the former Ziegfeld Folies beauty, has been given the role of a performer in the "Midnight Revue." In the character of Gloria Dawn she is afforded the most entrancing yet difficult part so far allotted her.
The plot is a beautiful and artful symbolism of modern life, hopes and ideals. An Al St. John comedy entitled "Cleaning Up" is the comedy for tonight. Gaumont News, Pathe Review and Topics of the day are also programmed. Tomorrow Mary Miles Minter in "Anne of Green Gables."

Charles Ray in "The Hick" at the Opera House tonight is an adaptation of "Plum Jane" by C.
Gardiner Sullivan and he is supported by Jessie Barriscale. It is a simple homely tale of a romance between a poor young student in a small college town and a much nearer "slaver" in the wretched boarding house where his circumstances compel him to make his home. Tomorrow Dorothy Dalton
in "The Vampire."

Madge Kennedy in her most delightful comedy, "Strictly Confidential," plays at the Auditorium tonight. Also a Charlie Chaplin comedy. Tomorrow double feature day. William S. Hart in "The Square Deal" and Enid Bennett in "The Haunted Bedroom."

Big Value in Tires for The Smaller Cars

Back of the manufacture of Goodyear Tires for the smaller cars is the same purpose to supply high value in the product that is behind the manufacture of the Goodyear Tires that equip the most expensive automobiles built.

This purpose is expressed by the enormous resources, extraordinary skill and scrupulous care applied to the manufacture of Goodyear Tires in the largest tire factory in the world devoted solely to the 30x3-, 30x3 1/2-, and 31x4-inch sizes.

The effect of this endeavor is noted in the fact that last year more cars using these sizes were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

It is also noted in the fact that if you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other car requiring one of the sizes mentioned, you can secure Goodyear Tires and Goodyear
Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Goodyear Service Station.

30x3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Curve

30x3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Curve

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3 1/2 size in water. $4.50

DRY LAW MAKES LESS COURT WORK

That prohibition is reducing crime in this state is evident from statistics compiled by the secretary of the State Probation Commission, Charles L. Chute, and submitted to the commission at its meeting in Albany last week.

Authentic figures secured from seventeen of the larger city and county courts in the state for the first three months of this year during which constitutional prohibition has been in effect showed that 48,143 offenders of all ages were arraigned in these courts. For the same period last year (January, February and March, 1919) 68,586 offenders were brought before the same courts showing a decrease of 23,392, or 34 per cent.

In the opinion of practically all the judges and probation officers consulted, this remarkable decrease in court work is attributable largely to the effects of prohibition. In practically all of the courts by far the greatest decrease has been in cases of public intoxication, disorderly conduct, and other offenses growing out of drink, although there has been a decrease in other offenses as well.

Every court covered by the investigation showed a reduction in court cases due to prohibition. There were no exceptions. For instance, in all the magistrate courts of New York city there was a decrease of 23 per cent among all offenders brought before the courts. There was a decrease of 52 per cent in cases of public intoxication. Only 914 were brought before all the magistrates courts for the first three months of this year for intoxication as compared with 1,914 for the same period last year.

In the Buffalo city court, the average number of offenders tried monthly has for many years exceeded two thousand. During the first three months of 1919, 6,954 criminals were tried. This year only 2,417 offenders were brought before the court in three months. The number of intoxication cases for this period was only 583, as compared with 3,094 the same period last year.

In Utica, arraignments decreased for the three months' period from 723 last year to 363 this year. Only 45 cases of intoxication were brought before the court for the first three months this year as compared with 226 last year.

One police justice writing to the commission expressed the view of many when he said, "Prohibition has made the police business dull compared with the old regime." One probation officer states that he finds "Prohibition is instrumental in bringing about better home conditions." Another says: "There has been in our city a big decrease in crimes caused through booze, men heretofore before the court after a week-end spree are now working steadily and have extra money in their pockets. Instead of always being broke. A woman probation officer who deals with delinquent boys and girls says: "Prohibition has turned the tide for the women and children. Despite the cost of living, men who formerly neglected their families have been able in many cases to start bank accounts, make payments on homes, clothe their families well, put coal in the cellar and get food in the larder, things unknown in some of these homes before the saloons were closed. The best of it is that the majority of these men tell me they don't want the former conditions to return because they have learned what enjoyment can be gotten out of home life not disturbed by drink."

The number of inmates in the county jails has also shown a remarkable decrease since prohibition went into effect. Several jails now report no inmates. The Niagara county jail on April 1st had only 25 prisoners, as compared with 62 one year ago. The population of the Franklin county jail was reported as 10 recently, as compared with an average of 30 in previous years.

In the city of Elmira, which had prohibition through local option during all of 1919 the arrests for public intoxication numbered 391, as compared with 1,095 during 1918 when the city was wet.

The commission finds that whereas the decrease in court arraignments in the courts studied was 34 per cent, the decrease in the number placed on probation was only 26 per cent. This indicates that the probation system is being used in a larger percentage of cases. Reports also show that with the elimination of habitual drunkards and other intoxication cases coming before the court, which nearly always failed when placed on probation, more effective results are being secured by the probation officers. The opinion was almost unanimous among the probation officers that the effects of prohibition are beneficial to their work.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, May 25.—Summer boarders have already begun to arrive and advance bookings at the several boarding and farm houses in this place and in the vicinity indicate a big season for all. The Irvington, conducted by Andrew Kohl, formerly of the City Hotel, in Kingston, has a number of guests. For some years it has been closed during the winter months but Mr. and Mrs. Kohl will keep the large hotel open the year 'round in the future. The hotel has been redecorated, the rooms refurnished, and a number of improvements made. Joseph Auerbach, who has been chef at some of the largest club houses in New York city, has been engaged to take charge of cuisine. Special attention will be given to the serving of Sunday dinners to automobileists and tourists.

Departments of the Court.
Dr. Samuel Johnson, on it is recorded, would never enter a room but first, however, and leave himself seen was in terror at the sight of a cat. Peter the Great was in a corner of fear if he had to cross a bridge, and Byron turned pale if he stepped out at the night.

AN ELABORATE
BRIDAL CHAMBER

Is Part of Improvements To Cuneo
Rooming House Which Opens
Thursday—Inspection Invited.

The new hotel of John J. Cuneo at 614-618 Broadway was opened for public inspection this afternoon at 2 o'clock and will remain open this evening. Curt Shurter's full orchestra is present and is rendering a concert program of the latest selections, while in various rooms about the hotel are bouquets of roses and other flowers.

There are 30 sleeping rooms on the two floors of Nos. 614 and 618 Broadway, with a dozen bath rooms all with tile floors, three for general use of guests and others private, connected with rooms. The rooms are single, and double, and will be rented en suite, the arrangement of the house being so that the rooms can nearly all be connected. Every room is a light room by reason of light and air shafts, and the painting is white in the interiors while the hallways and entrance doors and trimmings are of walnut color.

On the second floor under a light shaft is a very cozy lounging room with leather covered chairs and lounges, with writing desk, and there will be a writing room for guests on the third floor. A number of rooms are to be added to the hotel in the Cuneo building at 618 Broadway with baths, entrance being through a wide doorway in the dividing walls of 616 Broadway.

Many of the rooms have telephones, and there is a telephone on the second and third floor in the hallway for the use of guests and also one in the business office which is on the lower floor of a vestibule which leads from Broadway. Here is a clerk's desk, with room key board, register, etc., and a large lounge will also be installed. The floors of the hallways, corridors, and rooms have been newly carpeted, most prettily and each room has shades of a light tint, and also panel curtains of lace. Drop electric lights are in each room. The furniture is all new, the beds being of metal, some finished in oak, and others in maple, mahogany, or cypress, and adorned with harmonizing pictures.

There will be no meals served, the hotel being for the use of male guests and for automobile touring parties, such as families who have found it difficult heretofore in securing rooming accommodations in Kingston, and will assist in filling a long felt need.

The bridal chamber, which fronts on Broadway, is finely furnished, the bed and furniture, which was formerly owned by Anna Held, the famous singer on the comic opera stage, cost originally $2,400 and was purchased at a recent sale of her effects. All the furniture in the room is finished in ivory, with hand carvings and decorations, and the room contains a French chiffonier of ivory white and mahogany drawers. There are rooms with single beds, twin beds and full sized beds, some with two beds the rooms being so arranged they can be thrown in various combinations. The rates will be reasonable. Mr. Cuneo will open the hotel for business Thursday, and has engaged the service of Frank McKown, formerly with the Hotel Stuyvesant as clerk.

The unanimous verdict of those who have inspected the hotel throughout is that it is first-class in every particular and Mr. Cuneo is deserving of the greatest of praise for his enterprise in having constructed an up-to-date rooming house, and there should be no doubt that the hotel will be a paying proposition.

MILK SUPPLY MAY BE CUT OFF

Dealers Serve Ultimatum on Dairymen Who Want June Price of

$2.85 Based on Production Cost—

County Meetings to Arrange For

Care of Milk in Some Other Way.

Very serious trouble between the farmers and the milk dealers over the sale and conditions of sale of the milk for June and succeeding months has arisen. County meetings of dairymen are being called in every county in Dairymen's League territory. These county meetings will be followed on the next day by local meetings of every one of the nearly 1,100 branches of the Dairymen's League. Most of the county meetings will be held on Friday, May 28, and the local meetings on Saturday, May 29. At these meetings arrangements will be made by the dairymen to take care of their milk in some other way providing it is not sold to the regular dealers.

The trouble which now seems to have come to a head, has been brewing for several months. During the winter and early spring league milk was sold on a plan based upon the market prices of butter and cheese.

This plan was extremely unsatisfactory to the farmers because it resulted in prices during the fall and winter far below the costs of production.

However, notwithstanding that the original plan was unsatisfactory, the dealers came forward in March with demands that the plan then in force should be so revised that the resulting prices would be much lower than by the original plan. This suggestion was made by the milk dealers even though the fact that the farmers' costs have been mounting higher and higher. Grain has gone up steadily and some kinds of cattle feed have been almost impossible to obtain at any price.

The same situation exists with farm labor, and hay has reached the highest prices in the history of the industry, because the prices which have been paid for milk have been too low, the farmers have been unable to buy sufficient grain to keep their cattle in good condition, and have been obliged to turn them into the pastures this spring in poor condition and long before the pasture and the weather would justify taking the cattle from the stables.

ceive a telephone communication from the dealers' conference board, which said in effect that the usual negotiations with the Dairymen's League for the sale of milk could no longer be conducted unless the league accepted the dealers' revised plan for selling the milk. In other words, this communication amounted to an ultimatum.

The Dairymen's League immediately sent out a call for the board of directors and county presidents, who met in New York on Monday and Tuesday, May 24 and 25. After a thorough discussion of the whole situation, the directors again reported that the sentiment in the country was absolutely unanimous that milk should be sold upon a cost basis with adjustments either way to allow for market conditions. They reported that farmers felt that as market conditions had very greatly improved, there was no reason whatever why June milk should not be sold for a cost of production price, which is 2.85 per hundred pounds for three per cent milk at the 200-210 mile freight zone.

The directors also made arrangements to call county and local meetings in every county and community in league territory to acquaint the members with the full facts of the situation and make proper plans for any emergency. No dairyman should miss the meeting called in his own locality.

ROTARY PLANS FUTURE EVENTS

Inevitably left without a program at its luncheon today, the Rotary Club entertained itself with planning a program of activities for the next month or so that will keep it busy. For one thing, the club decided to go to church on the evening of the first Sunday in June, when the members will listen to a special sermon by President Seeley, in the Fair Street Reformed Church. The evening dinner on June 16 will be at the Yama Farms Inn, when the speaker will be Mrs. Sarre. On June 20, an evening meeting will be held in Kingston, to which members of neighboring clubs will be invited and at which some leading Rotarians will be the speakers. A committee was appointed to arrange an automobile ride and luncheon for the Industrial Home children at an early date. Final arrangements were made by the delegation going to Atlantic City on June 21, there was talk of making up a party to go to Port Jervis tomorrow evening and the activities of the boys' work committee were discussed and boosted along in a substantial way.

Burton Van Deusen of No. 274 Hasbrouck avenue, and Marguerite Keider of No. 34 Boulevard, were the two who found the lucky envelopes in the green shower at the Kingston Opera House Tuesday evening, which brought this unique feature to a close. Both envelopes were double headers and each contained $2 and four tickets to Keeney's theaters. The advertising stunt as put on by S. Cohen's Sons of Wall street has proven diverting, and has been followed with much interest by the residents of the city. All told thirty envelopes containing orders for money and free theater tickets were disposed of. The stunt started April 26 and closed Tuesday, May 25.

RIFTON'S FADED GLORY RECALLED

Judicial Accounting of Dimick Estate—Trustees Before Surrogate Gill—Request For $8,000 Commissions—Opposed by Judge Clearwater For Former Mrs. Dimick.

Surrogate Gill listened on Tuesday to a case which involved many tragedies. It was the judicial accounting of Frederick S. Dimick, and Ralph N. Voorhis as trustees under the last will and testament of Jeremiah W. Dimick, deceased. Mr. Dimick, as is well known, was the Rifton millionaire, who died leaving a large estate, the income of which he gave to his wife during her life time with remainder to various relatives, hospitals and educational institutions after her death.

Mrs. Dimick, last August married John Beaufort, a prominent stock broker of New York city. The trustees in their accounting on Tuesday asked $8,000, one-half their commissions on the real estate, the use of which under Mr. Dimick's will passed to his wife for life.

Judge Clearwater, who represented Mrs. Dimick, now Mrs. Beaufort, objected to the payment of these commissions upon the ground that under the provisions of Mr. Dimick's will the commissions were not payable until the sale of the real estate; that to take $8,000 from the principal of the estate at this time would reduce Mrs. Beaufort's income by the equivalent of the interest on that sum, to-wit, $480 annually during the remainder of her life, and that such an abstraction from the funds of the principal estate was not permissible.

In opposition to the judge's contention the trustees filed a long verified statement regarding Mr. Dimick's activities at Rifton, and the destruction of the business of the Dimick Company, of which he was the owner, which for years made the finest Axminster, Wilton and body Brussels carpets and rugs.

From this statement it appeared, what frequently has been alluded to, that the destruction of the carpet and rug business at Rifton began with the intervention of labor agitators. It showed that Mr. Dimick had been almost a father to his employees for many years, had furnished them with labor at good wages when they were in health, had provided for them when they were sick, had afforded schools, churches and amusements, had done all that was possible to promote their welfare and happiness. That notwithstanding this generosity they had listened to labor agitators who fomented strikes at his mills as he absolutely refused to be dictated to by labor unions, and for seven years he ran his business at a loss of $40,000 a year. When he died his trustees shut down the business, sold the machinery and the water power to the company which is developing a plant for the generation of electricity at the Dashville Falls on the property.

The statement also showed that the houses belonging to Mr. Dimick in which his employees lived for years, were empty and deserted; the mill buildings were going to wreck. Rifton, which was a chartered village, had surrendered its charter, and that disaster had overtaken the community. There is a temporary revival there due to the work conducted by the electric company, but it will be of short duration.

Frederick S. Dimick and John H. Hilliard, who represented the trustees, presented these facts with earnestness, and urged that the burdens devolving upon the trustees when they took charge of the estate were so great the court was justified in allowing the $8,000 asked for. Judge Clearwater in reply said that the trustees had been munificently paid by the commissions they already had received, the will allowing them four per cent upon all income received and disbursed, and upon all property actually sold, to such commissions he had interposed no objection, but to allow the trustees commissions upon property undisposed of would be, in his opinion, an illegal not to say immoral depletion of the estate.

Surrogate Gill took the papers and reserved his decision. In addition to the counsel whose names appear above, Lewis and Kealey, and Harries A. Mumma of New York appeared for Charles Harcourt Dimick, a remainderman, and Judge Frederick Steinhilber, Jr., for the infants as special guardian.

ELMS VS. U. & D. IN OPENING GAME TWILIGHT LEAGUE

To Be Played at McVey's Field Wednesday Evening, June 2—Organization of League Effected Wednesday—Some Fast Teams Entered For Season.

The Twilight Baseball League for 1920 was organized Wednesday evening at a meeting of the managers of the teams desiring to enter the league held with A. W. Buley, director of public recreation, in the board of public works office in the city hall. The following officers were elected: President, A. W. Buley, vice-president, Joseph Long; and secretary, Miss Olive Hammond, assistant director of the playgrounds.

The league will officially open the season Wednesday evening, June 2, when the U. & D. who won the league pennant last season, will clash with the recently organized Elm A. C. The game will start at 6:45 o'clock at McVey's Field.

Arthur Rice, the well-known ball player, is again the official umpire of the league, and the official playing ball will be the D. & M.

The teams represented at the meeting Wednesday night were: The U. & D. by Joseph Long; the F. & D. by Lawrence Scanlon; the Elm A. C. by John A. Manning; the Y. M. C. A. by Physical Director N. A. Dillinger; and Company M by M. Cloyd Crosby, representing Carl Preston, manager of the soldier boys. It is also expected that the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church will enter the league, but Charles Mullen, the manager, was unable to be present at the session.

In order to give every opportunity to teams to enter the league the entry list will remain open until Thursday evening, and full information may be obtained of either Mr. Buley or by calling up the Y. M. C. A. on the telephone.

The schedule of games will be drawn up by President Buley, and will probably be ready for publication in The Freeman on Saturday.

The names of the players must be in the hands of President Buley not later than Saturday. Each team will be allowed fifteen men.

The board of public works will furnish part of the equipment to be used in the games, including a new ball for each game. At the close of the game this ball is awarded to the winning team.
